Subject Kill ethanol production! EPA COMMENT

RE: Renewable Fuels Standard (RFS) Waiver Request.

This ethanol production boondoggle is a failure. Although it DOES demonstrate the technological ability of the human being, it does so on such a primitive scale that it is unworthy of the praise and glorification given to it by jump-on-the-bandwagon (e.i. bandwagon) politicians and a baffled, non-scientifically minded population unless one were to relegate the results to the intellectual capacities of--say a high school science project accomplishment--and be willing to live within the stunted, genocidal, population decimating confines it demands. This is simply unworthy of consideration for the future of mankind! Stop this foolishness. At projected population growth rates, this planet will have 9 billion people by 2050 from the current 6.5 billion! What regard for human potentiality is represented by taking food and/or arable land food-production capacity and converting it to fuel to be burned in internal combustion engines? Where is the shame in even CONSIDERING such a policy? How many who sit in church praying each Sunday are participating in this crime?

No, let's instead KILL the British Empire style "free-market" globalization--remember colonization?--system NOW by refusing to be sold into such a genocidal slavery and deny the financial speculators (contrasted with investors in viable public projects) of their power to loot the populations of the planet while killing them off. So called "market economics" without regard for the sanctity of human life is a crime against humanity! DOUBLING food production for the projected population growth is a goal worthy of government OF THE PEOPLE and must replace this arrogant, human-being hating policy!
